Creating an Inclusive Workplace

An experiential program to increase results through inclusion

In this highly interactive and hands on program, participants will:

- Discuss and explore the impact of a wide range of group identity differences such as: culture, gender, age, race, sexual orientation, disability.
- Understand the evolution of diversity in the workplace
- Explore how socialization has prepared and not prepared us to be effective in a diverse environment
- Understand and apply a model for becoming competent in diversity and inclusion
- Assess their own skill level in relation to various aspects of diversity and inclusion.
- Understand and practice a set of skills, applying them to case studies.
- Experience dynamics related to being “insiders” and “outsiders” and how those dynamics can create exclusion if not managed.
