

Leading Remote Teams

A team or project leader in one location and team members spread around the world is quite common today. This means leaders need to know how to communicate, influence and direct employees they may never see in person.

Participants in this highly interactive and hands-on workshop will learn how to overcome these challenges by learning:

- Competencies Needed To Lead Remote Employees
- The 2 Virtual Team Processes
- How to Increase Connection with Global Team Members
- The 4 Factors for Choosing the Right Media
- Tips and Techniques to Lead Virtually
- Best Practices for Email and Virtual Meetings
